Applicants should have a reasonable level of sight-reading and be aged 9-13.

Application form on reverse.

This unique course combines music-making with traditional summer camp activities. It is ideal for non-orchestral players – and for siblings of orchestral players attending the string course – who are eager to get involved in music whilst joining in with all the fun of the DYO Aravon summer camp.

During percussion workshops players will learn a wide variety of percussion instruments and may have the opportunity to join in with orchestra sessions. The rest of the day is filled with fun activities – swimming, tennis, Unihoc, soccer, orienteering, drama – something for everyone! All meals are provided by our in-house caterer. Aravon School in Bray provides an idyllic, secluded setting and full use is made of the grounds for outdoor activities.

Our expert tutor this year is Shay Lally. Shay has performed and tutored widely since beginning his music career as a youngster with the Artane Boys' Band. He is a veteran of television, radio and stage where he regularly performs with Ireland's top musical groups. He recently founded The Mobile Music School which combines his passions for music and music education.
